24th March 2016

During last two weeks we fixed several errors in the pages that we previously finished. Journey offering and journey arranger are the only functions that we left to do in the coming month.

The following is our plan for April. Since we do not have lessons in the month, we are able to spend more time on Blue Bus. The deadline for submitting the final version of our website will be Wednesday 27th April. And we need to make a presentation on 27th April as well.

Doable Plan for April
	Ali Aliyev	Yanwen Feng
Week 1	Journey offering	Documentation
Week 2
Week 3	App tests & Video	Journey arranger (searching and booking)
Week 4		App tests
Week 5 (till April 26th)	Documentation & Presentation

Ali Aliyev:

During the last two week I did some layout fix to search and offer pages: I added scroll view so now it is easier to navigate between text fields without needing to remove keyboard. I also fixed the map so it works with any android device. (previously it only worked with Yanwen's phone) I am currently in the stage of finalising user shared preferences.

Yanwen Feng:

During the last two weeks, I fixed two errors in Map page. First, the data that is supposed to go to TextView1 goes to TextView2. I changed the "if" statement and it works now. The second error is that the search function in Map page did not work. The key for Google Map is not functioning. Finally I got the correct google_maps_key for BlueBus from accessing the link inside googl e_maps_api.xml. In the coming weeks I am going to work on documentation and publish them on our website.
